HAVERFORD WINS ON MUDDY FIELD BY 15-0 SCORE

Buff and Blue Lose to Home Team in Game Marred by Many Fumbles

LAST MINUTE SCORING

Pennsylvanians Make Two Touchdowns in Final Plays

Hamilton suffered its third defeat of the season Saturday when it lost to Haverford at Haverford, Pa., 15-0. The Buff and Blue was not outclassed as much as the score might indicate, for it carried the fight throughout the first half and completely outplayed and outrushed Haverford for that part of the game. The Green team scored its points on a safety in the third quarter and two touchdowns in the last few minutes of play in the final period.

The game was played in a driving rain which made the field a sea of mud, and as a result the ball was like a cake of soap and hard to handle. Many fumbles resulted, with Hamilton the chief offender. Haverford fumbled only twice.

Line bucking was used mainly by both teams, as the condition of the field made it slippery going around the ends. Haverford tried several passes and completed one, Webster to Lamberti, for a gain of 20 yards. Eddie Martin gained ground time after time by line bucking, and was easily the star for Hamilton. Middleton for the home team gained consistently and secured the first touchdown for Haverford. Sassaman also starred for Haverford by closely following the ball, and accounting for the touchback and the last touchdown.

In the first quarter it looked like Hamilton's game. In a long series of line bucks, with Captain Martin brilliantly carrying the ball for gains four out of five plays, the Buff and Blue marched 80 yards down the field. The ball was within six feet of Haverford's goal when the quarter ended. During time out the Haverford players all changed shoes and put on mud cleats which immediately gave them an advantage, and showed its effect in the better playing of the Haverford team.

When the ball was put in play at the other end of the field, the Haverford line stiffened, and held the Buff and Blue for downs on their own one yard line. Chatfield failed to gain on the last attempt through the line. This failure to make a touchdown when it seemed almost a certainty was the turning point in the game for Hamilton. Although they continued to hold Haverford the rest of the half, the Buff and Blue seemed to lack their former spirit.

FROSH ELECT CHATFIELD TO CLASS PRESIDENCY

Freshman elections were held last week. Rodney Gibson, Jr., was chairman pro tem of the class, having been chosen to lead the yearlings in the row with the sophs at the opening of college.

Competition for the position of president was keen, but the choice finally narrowed down to two men, Gibson and Chatfield. Chatfield won out. "Chatty," or Sherwood C. Chatfield, comes from Washington, D. C. He plays halfback on the football team, and has held his position consistently well throughout the season so far. He is pledged Sigma Phi.

Gibson was nominated for vice-president of the class, and was elected to this office. Gibson is a member of the College Choir, and has a part in the forthcoming production of the Charlatans, Dunsany's "Night at an Inn." He is also on the cross country squad. Gibson's home is in New Rochelle and he has been pledged Alpha Delta Phi.

HAMILTON HARRIERS LOSE TO UNION TEAM

Schenectady Runners Take First Five Places

The Hamilton cross country team met its second defeat of the season last Wednesday afternoon at Schenectady when the Union harriers succeeded in finishing five men in the first five places for a perfect score of 15-40. This was the fourth consecutive win of the season for the Union team which last year won the Middle Atlantic States championship.

Totten and McMillan were the two Union men tied for the initial position with the time of 35 minutes and 17 seconds. Johnson placed third while Woodsworth, Naden, and Steven, also Union men, were tied for the fourth place.

Clark, who has been making the best showing on the Hamilton squad this season, was the first of the Buff and Blue runners to finish. Following soon after him came Miller of Union, and then Vosburg and Bald of Hamilton. The remainder of the Hamilton men finished in the following order: Baker, Cutter, Miller, and Robbins.

The Hamilton runners complained that the Union course was not marked plainly enough to keep them on the right road, and that several of them lost the track about the middle of the course and were later forced to retrace their steps when they found that they had taken the wrong road. This, however, would not have made any difference in the score, but the runners might have finished with a little better time.

The Hamilton men were very enthusiastic in their praise of the support which the Union College body gives to its cross country team. In spite of the fact that the meet was the only drawing card the grand stands were filled with spectators who cheered every man as he finished. It is rather an unusual thing to see a cross country team as well supported as a football team.

Despite the fact that Hamilton failed to finish a man in the first five places, it made a fairly good showing against a team that is obviously one of the strongest teams in the East.

CLUB MEETINGS ARE HELD DURING WEEK

Last Wednesday evening, Oct. 21, the History Club met at the home of Dr. Bonham. About 15 men attended the meeting. This year the History Club plans to study and discuss the part women have played in the making of history. Cleopatra was the first of these "Famous Women of History" and therefore was chosen as the topic of discussion for last Wednesday evening's meeting. Delafield P. Pucillo, '26, president of the group, read an interesting paper on "Cleopatra and Caesar," and Herbert D. Rathbun, '26, read a narration on "The Relations between Cleopatra and Mark Antony." Various members of the club asked questions and the discussion became general. The theory was advanced that all of Cleopatra's somewhat questionable actions could be laid to her all-consuming passion for political power. This theory was the one finally accepted by the History Club. Dr. Bonham expressed himself as "highly gratified at the interest shown at this meeting and hoped that all succeeding meetings of the group might be as successful." It was decided that the next meeting of the organization would be held on Wednesday evening, Nov. 11, at the Theta Delta Chi House.

The Latin Club held its first meeting of the year at the home of Dr. Chase on Monday evening, Oct. 19. Many of last year's members were present in addition to several sophomores who were attending for the first time. Election of officers for the ensu-

Press Board Furnishes Scores

In keeping with its program of increased activity, the Press Board has made arrangements to place results of all out of town games at the disposal of the college as soon as the scores are available. Scores of all out of town games are wired to Mr. Prettyman immediately after the game and he will send them at once to George Bebee, chairman of the Press Board. Any student desiring the results of any game can get them from Sigma Phi Hall as soon as they are available.

SOCCER PLAYERS BEAT R. P. I. 5-1

Hamilton Team Displays Good Team Play—Clever Foot Work

Their defense blasted by the lightning attack of the Hamilton forwards and their offense thoroughly tamed by the Hamilton backs, the R. P. I. soccer team went down to a 5-1 defeat at the hands of Gelas' team here Saturday.

The work of the Hamilton players was a revelation in the first home game with another college eleven. The line displayed the cleverest footwork seen in many a moon, handling the ball cleanly and driving it through the visitors' defense almost at will. The halfbacks supported their forwards in excellent shape and often broke up the R. P. I. offense before it got under way. The fullbacks and goals worked together like a veteran combination, and, excepting the one corner kick that scored the losers' only point, repulsed every attack directed at them.

Hamilton took the lead a few minutes after the game started and was never headed. Nichols, right inside, who has been hampered by a bad ankle all season, scored the first goal for Hamilton, but bumped his ankle making it and had to be taken out.

Payne tallied the next Hamilton goal and Chan made it 3-0 a few minutes later when he drove one through. The R. P. I. offense hit its stride and carried the ball into Hamilton territory finally scoring the visitors' goal on a corner kick, Garcia making the point. Another point by Payne made the score 4-1 at half time.

Gelas' crew contented itself with a single point in the final half while holding the Engineers scoreless.

DR. BARTLETT URGES CORRECT STANDARDS

Hobart President in Sermon Condemns Materialism

On Sunday the Rev. Murray Bartlett, D.D., President of Hobart and William Smith Colleges, addressed the Chapel on the subject of "Jesus's Philosophy of Life." Dr. Bartlett has served as dean of the Cathedral of St. Mary and St. John in Manila, and was the first president and organizer of the University of the Philippines. During the war he was an overseas secretary of the Y. M. C. A. He was wounded in the Marne-Aisne offensive in 1918, and shortly after was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross and the Croix de Guerre. Later he was made a Chevalier de la Legion d'Honneur.

Dr. Bartlett took his text from St. Matt. 7:24-33, beginning, "No man can serve two masters," and ending with the words, "But seek ye first the Kingdom of God and his righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you." These two texts in particular formed the basis of an excellent sermon in which he developed many worth-while ideas.

He said, in part, that every man, consciously or unconsciously, had a philosophy of some sort. That of Jesus was, he believed, to be found in the passages he had used as his text, the fundamental principle of which was that first things must come first and then the other interests will find their proper place. He maintained that there were two sets of moral values, the material and the spiritual, and that by a man's behavior it could be determined which standards he had chosen.

An institution such as Hamilton stood for values which were permanent and satisfying. Pleasure did not satisfy as an end; neither did knowledge for the sake of gain. First things must be first to establish any lasting success.

He illustrated this with the story of Dr. Banting, the world-famous discoverer of insulin, who by commercializing his marvelous research, could have amassed millions on a product more necessary to multitudes than the bread they ate. Instead of this, he bent all his energies to secure for it the cheapest and most widespread distribution possible, and restored thosands of hopeless diabetics to health and activity. For his services he was honored by governments, institutions, and even great businesses. What a contrast to this was the story of the rich man in the Bible who was told to sell all he had and give to the poor. He could not make the sacrifice but went away in sorrow. "The man who makes a choice and then is sorry for it, is a fool," said Dr. Bartlett in closing.

PETITION PRESENTED

At the next meeting of the Executive Council a petition will be presented providing for a different "H" for minor sports. It describes the present insignia as inadequate and poorly designed, and proposes the standard block major "H", modified by the addition of designatory letters.

D. A. M. Pledges Resign

Last Wednesday evening the six men pledged to the D. A. M. Club held a meeting, the immediate result of which was that they turned in their pledge pins. These men did not feel that the D. A. M. Club was a "worth-while organization." That is their explanation.

George Bebee, '26, secretary-treasurer of the D. A. M. Club, said that, at an informal meeting, the organization had decided to "let matters stand as they were." He commented further: "These men turned in their pledge buttons as a result of a misunderstanding of the purpose of the D. A. M. Club—they seem to believe that it glorifies defeat. That is distinctly not the purpose of the organization. Its purpose has been strictly honorary, membership to it being open only to those who have done outstanding work in various athletic and scholastic competitions, and who therefore deserve some recognition for their services."

Bebee added that there was considerable resentment among the eight active men in the chapter at the fact that the pledges had accepted bids in the first place, "and then, evidently not thinking the matter out independently, had turned their pins in together."

CALENDAR FOR THE WEEK

Tuesday, Fraternity Meetings.

Wednesday, Glee Club rehearsal at 7:45.

Thursday, Choir rehearsal at 7:45.

Friday, German Club at home of Dr. Hauch, 7:45.

Saturday, Football with C. C. N. Y. at New York. Soccer with Williams at Clinton, 3. Cross Country with Hobart at Geneva.

Sunday, Chapel preacher, Rev. E. A. Odell, D.D., of the Presbyterian Board, New York. Glee Club rehearsal for basses at 2:30.

Monday, Latin Club at the Psi U House at 7:30. Geology Club at Science Building at 8.

WORK ON KNOX HALL STARTS IMMEDIATELY

When Restored Will be Used for Administration Building

The work of changing Knox Hall into an administration building will begin immediately. The building will conform as closely as possible to the original structure as erected in 1812-13. The building is of interest because Senator Root was born there.

The plan of the first floor is as follows. There will be two front entrances and one side entrance. Only one of the front entrances, however, will be used to any great extent. This entrance will lead into a waiting hall. On the right of this hall will be situated the office of the Dean and in back of this Mr. Johnson's office. The outer office of the President will be located on the left side of the waiting hall, and the President's private office will be on the left front corner of the building. The other front entrance will lead directly into the President's office. To the rear of the President's office there will be a room for the President's stenographer.

Office for Bursar

The rear of the building can be approached through the waiting hall or through a side entrance. Here will be located the Bursar's outer office, the Bursar's private office, and Mr. Burton's office. In the center of the building there will be a large vault, available both to the President and the Bursar. The stairway will also be located near the center of the building. In the basement there will be rest rooms and another entrance to the vault. The rooms in the front part of the first floor will be high and there will be no second floor over them. There will be a second floor over the rear. This will hold a large room with an arched roof where the committees, faculty, and trustees will meet.

The whole structure will be conservative in design, strictly in keeping with the old architecture of the other college buildings.

The various contracts have already been let out. They are as follows: General Contracting, E. P. Sharp and Co.; Plumbing, Stradling Plumbing and Heating Co.; Heating, H. C. Petersen Co.; Electrical Work, H. G. Hatfield Co.; Painting, J. H. Hauser; Lighting Fixtures, Reed and Hardy Fixture Co. The architects are Bagg and Newkirk.

INSTRUCTORS LIKE SCIENCE BUILDING

Hamilton's new science building is an addition to her equipment of which she should well be proud. It is equalled in perfection by very few science buildings in the colleges of the East. It answers every demand of both students and faculty. In commenting on its features, Professor Morrill, who, with Professor Dale, is responsible for the planning of this building, says, "From the day it was opened everything has worked out perfectly. Of course there are still many details to straighten out and it will probably be a year before everything is just as it should be, but we are more than satisfied. Such equipment as is furnished us here makes the instruction more effective and the work of the students more pleasant. One feature which is particularly fine is the perfect lighting system. The arrangement of corridors good illumination and an excellent opportunity for the displaying of specimens. The hall arrangement is also good, in that it permits free passage of students without crowding. The arrangement of the museum is also infinitely better in the new building."

FIVE CONCERTS TO BE HELD IN COLLEGE CHAPEL

Arthur Whiting Series of Concerts Will Be Presented During Coming Year

DATES NOT SETTLED

First Concert Will Be Given Before Christmas

Through an appropriation from a well-known national educational foundation, five concerts will be given at Hamilton this year. The dates of the concerts have not been fixed as yet, but it is expected that one will be given every month for five months. The first concert will be given before Christmas, sometime between Thanksgiving and the holidays. It is not known of what these concerts will consist, but it is believed that they will be entirely classical in nature. President Ferry has started correspondence and hopes to know full particulars before long. If it is agreeable to the artists, the concerts will be held in the Chapel. The Chapel has been used for things of a like nature before. It is hoped that before a great many more years, Hamilton may have an auditorium which can be used for this purpose.

The concerts are to be under the direction of Arthur Whiting, the famous musician. At 61 years of age, he is well known as a pianist, organist, and writer of orchestral music, songs and pianoforte pieces. His compositions are performed by the Boston, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati Symphony Orchestras and the Kneisel Quartet. He has made his home in New York for some years, where he is a member of the Century Association of that city.

As Mr. Whiting is the founder and manager of the University Concerts of Harvard, Princeton, and Yale, there is every reason to believe that his concerts at Hamilton will achieve their purpose.

The objection has often been raised that the student at Hamilton has little chance to broaden his musical education. There is but one college course along this line and it is open to a limited number of men who can sing. The education of the average student has been neglected, some say, and the only way he can learn anything of the masterpieces, is to go to Utica when some recital of musical note is being given, which is rarely. Even then, he has small chance of interpreting the numbers successfully. To remedy this lack, an experiment in the appreciation of music is to be tried at Hamilton shortly. Mr. Root's course in Appreciation of Art, which was begun as an experiment, has proved so successful that the college has decided to do something for the musical education of the students and widen still further the liberal arts education.

WOOLLCOTT MENTIONS COLLEGE IN ARTICLE

Alexander Woollcott, '09, one of the foremost dramatic critics in New York, in a recent article in the "Pictorial Review," made a reference to his undergraduate days at Hamilton.

Mr. Woollcott's article was in the form of comment upon the life of Dorothy Donnelly, one of the leading women playwrights of today. Miss Donnelly first achieved fame through her acting, particularly in the roles of Candida and Madame X. In 1916 she was asked to aid in the revision of a musical comedy and has been writing plays ever since.

Speaking of changing careers in midstream, Mr. Woollcott illustrates his point by an incident which occurred during his freshman year at Hamilton. He relates how a "lean and rosy youth, who has since become the comparatively awesome professor of English Literature on that very campus, flung himself boldly at the horizontal bar and whirled around and around it in the manner of a somewhat enlarged Fourth of July pin-wheel."

The inexperience of this would-be acrobat caused him to fall to the "rather meagre mat below." Woollcott and his fellow students promptly rushed to the side of their friend in order to ascertain the extent of his injuries.

" 'I think,' he murmured as he sat up and ruefully rubbed his aching head, 'I think I will drop this course and take up music.' "

THE EDITOR SPEAKS

It is not desirable for the editor of a newspaper to have to explain his policies and to give his reasons for making certain statements.

In the first four issues of Life this year we have attacked several things and have proposed several others. We have received a great deal of criticism from students and members of the faculty on account of this policy. From the alumni, on the other hand, we have received letters of encouragement.

Life is trying to be a newspaper this year, instead of a propaganda sheet. no news that will not rebound to the eternal credit of Hamilton. But why? We have been informed from official sources that this paper should contain on news that will not rebound to the eternal credit of Hamilton. But why? Will we impress the world at large if we pretend that this is the one perfect college in the country? Will Hamilton itself advance along constructive lines without straightforward criticism of its defects, and suggestions to remedy them?

If the readers of Life want us to revert to the old editorial policy and print articles on "Keep the Freshmen Off the Grass," etc., it is most easy to do so. But we firmly believe that intelligent criticism and suggestions in editorials will be welcomed, provided that they are offered in the right spirit. When we attack Hamiton's playing Colgate in football next year, we are not attacking the men in charge of atheties here, or Colgate University—we are attacking Hamilton's entry into a type of football competition contrary to its tradition.

We are the first to admit that a line must be drawn somewhere on what should be printed in Life. If we appear to include certain articles merely on account of their sensational nature, then we have defeated our own aims. If certain persons feel that they are being personally attacked, then the spirit of criticism is entirely misunderstood.

A Creed

We believe in Hamilton College. We believe that the College is greater now than it was 25 years ago, and that in 25 years it will be still greater. We believe that the customs and traditions of a quarter of a century ago are now known mostly as myths. We believe that class rivalry will soon be a thing of the past. We believe that forced college spirit will give way to a quieter but stronger love for the College and its institutions.

We believe that a gradual maturity is entering into college life, which will bring the stress upon things intellectual rather than upon the rah-rah side of college existence. We believe that all these events are aking place slowly, so slowly that few realize or know what is happening. We believe that an open, honest discussion of pertinent questions is the only way of obtaining satisfactory results.

And we believe that Life should do its small part in helping to develop a greater college of the future.

THE PASSING OF D. A. M.

The action of the pledges to D. A. M. in turning in their buttons is significant. Whether or not that organization has served any useful purpose on the Hill is an issue.

It is somewhat dubious whether any reward is really necessary for the fairly defeated managerial competitor. Perhaps it is too idealistic to say that he should feel repaid by the feeling that he has done his utmost and failed. Consequently he has gained valuable experience, although he lacks the glories of election to a managership. The man who competes vigorously usually sets his heart upon succeeding. If he loses, he can scarcely be compensated by assuming, for the rest of his college course, a constant reminder of his failure.

"SIGNS OF PROGRESS"

Clinton is coming up in the world! After more than a century of existence, the village has installed artificial gas, built a new post office, and repaved the road to Utica, all in a single summer. The last two projects have not yet been completed, but the post office is promised for the first of January, and the new highway is practically finished.

At least two of these items in Clinton's progressive program have a direct bearing on Hamilton College. A broad cement road will be a welcome relief from the bumpy macadam highway of the last few years. And it should have an effect upon the number of Uticans who attend our athletic contests. The new post office with its modern and efficient means of distributing and receiving mail, should considerably facilitate that importance phase in the life of every undergraduate.

FROSH ATTEND RECEPTION

The President's reception to the freshman class was held on Wednesday evening, Oct. 21, at the home of Dr. Ferry. In the receiving line were President and Mrs. Ferry, Mr. Chatfield and Mr. Gibson, of the class of '29. Those present were the members of the faculty and their wives, several guests from Clinton and vicinity, and the entire freshman class. Refreshments were served.

This reception, given each year thru the kindness of the President, is felt to be of great value to the members of the freshman class. It is here that they first meet the members of the faculty, their wives, and the members of their own class, and have a chance to become acquainted with them.

—Herbert D. Meritt, valedictorian of the class of '25, is studying for an M.A. degree at Princeton.

BROOKLYN ALUMNI MEET

The attention of the alumni is called to a notice issued by Harry J. Ahlheim, secretary of the Brooklyn Hamilton Alumni Association. On Friday evening, Nov. 13, there will be a Hamilton College alumni dinner at the Machinery Club, 50 Church St., New York. The dinner is to be served at 6:30 and will be informal. The place (the Hudson Terminal Building) can be reached conveniently by all subway and elevated lines and by the Hudson Tube.

Through the generosity of the president, Dr. Henry White Callahan, and at considerable expense on his part, the White Entertainment Bureau will furnish a very excellent and elaborate program of singing, story-telling, and dancing. The entertainment is to be a rare treat and in keeping with Hamilton's highest ideals.

FOOTBALL AND SOCCER TEAMS WORKING HARD

Next Saturday Hamilton will play City College of New York football team in the fourth out of town game of the season. It is a fairly strong team composed mostly of veterans. Captain Phildius, veteran end, Dreiband, a powerful linesman, and Ted Meisel, a star halfback, are their best players. St. Lawrence and New York University have both beaten C. C. N. Y. However C. C. N. Y. has rung up a win over the New York Aggies. Coach Carroll is optimistic and thinks that his charges have a very good chance to score up a victory when they journey down to the metropolis next Saturday.

Hamilton will go after its second soccer victory when the Buff and Blue eleven hooks up with Williams here next Saturday. With both the football team and the cross country squad engaging in out of town contests, the soccer team will have the local sport stage all to itself, except for the high school sectional cross country meet which will be held on a specially laid out course here Saturday.

Coach Gelas was well pleased by the showing made against R. P. I. Saturday. The passing and heading of the ball left little to be desired and stress this week will be laid on coordination between the backs and the line in order to build up a smoother running attack.

According to the dope, Hamilton should win from Williams. The Purple lost to R. P. I. earlier in the season by 4-0, but has been playing better soccer in each succeeding game. Pagenstecher, right halfback and captain of the Williams eleven, and Christie, center, are the two outstanding stars on the New England team. Wulp, goal-tender for the Williams outfit, has been showing up well in the recent games.

—Harry D. Yates, '25, is treasurer of the Lafayette Hotel of Buffalo.

A BUSINESS MAN FOR THE TOWN'S BUSINESS

The Town's Business is BIG Business. The Supervisor and Board can be likened to the president and directors of a corporation. Voters are the stockholders.

If you were an active stockholder in a corporation administering finances and handling problems which required demonstrated ability, you would naturally choose the best business man obtainable, wouldn't you?

As a voter you are a stockholder in the town's business.

Jamie W. Stepp is a business man, the unanimous choice of his party for the office of Supervisor.

"The Busy Man Gets Things Done."

Local Stuff

Carpe notes with more or less ironic eye the sudden boost in the fortunes of one of the lowest orders of menials in the college world. He observed it first in the after-chapel announcements, and it took more than a modicum of self-control to prevent him from rising up and screeching, "Wothehell? Wothehell?" before every soul in the place. Yes, even though Prex 'imself was there that morning.

Well, you heard it. The prof announcing the announcements chirped blasely, just as if nothing were wrong, "There will be a meeting of all SCRUB managers after chapel this morning."

Wot d'they mean, SCRUB managers?

Wothehell? Wothehell?

Anent the business of managers, Carpe also hears vague rumors to the effect that the D. A. M. Club's six new pledges have turned in their pins.

Yes, the old days are passing. SCRUB! managers; and those who aren't even that, but who glance with jaundiced eye and saffron-colored spirit at the business of college initiations!

Educating the faculty

Beloved Carpe:

Smut's Senior Literary Penmen have been kicking through lately with a deluge of "realistic" themes which treat in the most alarmingly intimate fashion the less nice resorts of a certain town ten miles or so to the north. Licker. Wimmin. Ugh!! And the last theme read, a musical criticism, even recounted the drinking of a glass of beer on the way home.

Gracious! Is it time for a new KNICKERBOCKER history of this particular part of New York? TOBY KATZ.

Carte du Jour

Now, Phideas Krinkle, early in his college course, would have no frills, either as regards scholarship and studies, or equipment. Hence, we found him (that is, some one did) buying a pen for $1.37 — today only — and putting the difference between that and the price of a Parker Duofold in books — good books, too, let it be understood. And passing charitably over some profane lapses, he got along with it till graduation, and then some. We're liberal—it would make a mark when you pressed it, frequently. But Krinkle, with this penny-grasping trait, went bankrupt three years after graduation. And he never did amount to much after.

Jack Free, on the other hand, had an eye to quality, beauty, and—oh yes—quality. His second week in college found him with a Parker Duofold. Makes no difference if he did steal it—he knew what sort to steal, and the victim bought another Parker, anyway. Well, to coin a phrase, that was just like Jack, and he graduated and signed his first check with a flourish and a Parker. And, due, it must be admitted in fairness by all, to this belief and insistence on quality at all costs, he went stony broke in two years.

So there really was little advantage in the Parker Duofold over the orphan-pen, except having something decent to write with during the period mentioned.

Price, complete with case, $60

Early in the third period, Haverford scored on a lucky break. Brockway, Hamilton center, had some trouble passing the muddy ball and from his 10-yard line sent the ball too high for Chatfield to catch. Chatfield recovered the ball behind the Hamilton goal line. Sassaman tackled him before he could get back across the line. This safety was the only scoring until the last five minutes of the game. It looked for a while as though the game would end with Haverford a lucky winner, 2-0.

In the last few minutes of play Haverford took the ball from her own 40-yard line and by off-tackle plays and a beautiful 20-yard forward pass, worked the ball down to Hamilton's goal where Middleton went through for a touchdown. Sassaman's try for point failed.

Haverford's second touchdown came immediately afterwards on a Hamilton misplay. After an exchange of punts, Hamilton had the ball on her own 25-yard line. Either because of a bad pass from center due to the muddy condition of the ball, or to a mix-up in signals, the ball went wild. Sassaman, fleet Haverford end, scooped up the ball and went over the line for a touchdown. He kicked the extra point.

The lineup follows:

HAVERFORD 15		HAMILTON 0
	left end
Dohan		Kinloch
	left tackle
Miller, capt.		Keeports
	left guard
Albert		Williamson
	center
Mitchell		Brockway

SONS OF ROTARIANS TO BE ENTERTAINED

Hamilton Day will be observed by the Rotary Club of Utica next Friday when all students who are sons of Rotarians will be entertained at a dinner at Hotel Utica. The dinner will be served at 12:15 Friday noon.

Professor Chase will make a brief address to the members of the club and their guests following the dinner. Edmund Wager, '85, will preside. Several special guests will be present including President Ferry.

Robert D. Fraser, '05, who has charge of the arrangements for the dinner, has announced that transportation to and from Utica will be furnished by members of the club for the Hamilton students attending. Any son of a Rotarian at Hamilton who has not signified his intention of attending Friday should get in touch with Wallace B. Johnson at once.

ing year resulted in the unanimous choice of Frederick DeLaFleur, '26, a member of the Emerson Literary Society, as president; George Schiro, '26, was elected vice-president; and John W. Ryan, Jr., '27, was selected secretary-treasurer.

As this is the year for the Latin play Dr. Chase read a part of the very interesting play, the Menaechmi of Plautus. The play deals with the trouble that two brothers, Menaechmus of Syracuse and Menaechmus of Sardinia, have in finding each other. It is a hilarious slap-stick comedy throughout.

The next meeting of the Latin Club has been set for next Monday evening at the Psi U House.

"HOW TO STUDY"

The Students' Hand-Book of Practical Hints on the Technique of Effective Study by
WILLIAM ALLAN BROOKS

A GUIDE containing hundreds of practical hints and short cuts in the economy of learning, to assist students in securing MAXIMUM SCHOLASTIC RESULTS at a minimum cost of time, energy, and fatigue.

ESPECIALLY RECOMMENDED for overworked students and athletes engaged in extra curriculum activities and for average and honor students who are working for high scholastic achievement.

Some of the Topics Covered

Scientific Shortcuts in Effective Study.
Preparing for Examinations.
Writing Good Examinations.
Brain and Digestion in Relation to Study.
How to Take Lecture and Reading Notes.
Advantages and Disadvantages of Cramming.
The Athlete and His Studies.
Diet During Athletic Training.
How to Study Modern Languages.
How to Study Science, Literature, etc.
Why Go to College;
After College, What?
Developing Concentration and Efficiency.
etc., etc., etc., etc., etc., etc. etc.

Why You Need This Guide

"It is safe to say that failure to guide and direct study is the weak point in the whole educational machine." Prof. G. M. Whipple, U. of Michigan.

"The successful men in college do not seem to be very happy. Most of them, especially the athletes, are overworked." Prof. H. S. Canby, Yale.

"Misdirected labor, though honest and well intentioned, may lead to naught. Among the most important things for the student to learn is how to study. Without knowledge of this his labor may be largely in vain." Prof. G. F Swain, M.I.T.

"To students who have never learnt 'How to Study,' work is very often a chastisement, a flagellation, and an insuperable obstacle to contentment." Prof. A. Inglis, Harvard.

"HOW TO STUDY" will show you how to avoid all misdirected effort.

Get a good start and make this year a highly successful one by sending for this hand-book and guide NOW.
